

The Back Story

The back story on past & present Alameda County politicians.

Friday, November 21, 2014

Kathleen Knox - Pleads No Contest to Fraud Charges

A former candidate for Alameda County auditor-controller was convicted yesterday for violations of California's election code.

Kathleen Knox was originally charged with seven counts of perjury and voter fraud. Ms. Knox pleaded no contest to three counts and was sentenced to three years probation and fined. Ms. Knox's counsel did not return our calls seeking comment on the case.

Ms. Knox was also investigated by the FPPC (Fair Political Practices Commission) and found guilty of violations of the Political Reform Act.

Kathleen Knox is the daughter of former Alameda County Supervisor Bob Knox.

Bob Knox is also in legal trouble, as the State of California is seeking to collect millions for environmental damage associated with a Contra Costa based company which Mr. Knox owns and operates. Public records show CPC Holdings is the company in question, which is currently based in Utah. Bob Knox resides in Utah with his wife Karla Jo Knox and two school age children.

Posted by The Back Story at 2:55 PM No comments:

Labels: Alameda County Auditor Controller, Bob Knox, CPC Holdings, FPPC, Karla Jo Knox, Kathleen Knox, Kati Knox, Kati Knox & Associates, KMJ Associates, Robert G Knox III, Rosegate Assisted Living, Rosegate Memory Care

Friday, April 20, 2012

Ms. Lockyer, we wish you the best in your future!

It appears from a report published by the Bay Area News Group that Nadia Lockyer has resigned effective immediately. After months of shocking revelations, Ms. Lockyer made the decision that in the interest of her personal well-being, that of her family and son, and the taxpayers of Alameda County, leaving public office and transitioning back to the private sector was best.

Let this episode of Alameda County politics and that of other recently disgraced politicians within Alameda County be a learning experience for voters.

Does campaign funding interfere with a voter's knowledge and understanding of a candidate? The $1.5+ million dollars Bill Lockyer spent on Nadia's campaign would seem to support an overwhelming answer of...YES!

Good luck and best wishes to Ms. Lockyer!

Posted by The Back Story at 4:05 PM No comments:

Labels: Alameda County, Bill Lockyer, California Treasurers Office, Hayward, Mary Hayashi, Nadia Lockyer

My Blog List

East Bay Express

 The Beacon

 EastBayCitizen | Breaking News Politics Life

 Pay to Play Law Blog

Utah News - The Salt Lake Tribune

Politics Blog

 The Lede

Capitol Alert

 FREE WILL

California Watch - All Content

 PolitiCal

 Matier & Ross — San Francisco Bay Area News — SFGate - SFGate

Blog Archive

► 2011 (10)

► 2012 (12)

▼ 2014 (1)

▼ 11/16 (1)

Kathleen Knox - Pleads No Contest to Fraud Charges