LEBANON

Lebanon's economic freedom score is 44.1, making its economy the 165th freest in the 2025 Index of Economic Freedom. Its rating has decreased by 4.2 points from last year, and Lebanon is ranked 13th out of 14 countries in the Middle East / North Africa region. The country's economic freedom score is lower than the world and regional averages. Lebanon's economy is considered "repressed" according to the 2025 Index.

The foundations of Lebanon's economic freedom have been severely undermined. The entrepreneurial environment, characterized by political instability and regulatory inefficiency, generally discourages the more dynamic growth of private investment. Commercial regulations are still burdensome. In the absence of a well-functioning legal framework, protection of property rights remains weak, and corruption is widespread. Fiscal and financial crises exacerbate a bleak economic picture. The labor market has been undermined by political instability and uncertainty.
